

2018 SEMI-ANNUAL GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS REPORT

Regions engages in all levels of public policy advocacy on behalf of the company, our employees, our shareholders and our customers. Part of that advocacy includes engagement in the electoral process through the use of legally permissible corporate political contributions. Included in this report is the Regions Policy on Political Contributions, a list of contributions made between January 1 and June 30, 2018, and a list of the portion of our trade association dues that are attributable to lobbying expenses for those associations where our dues and other payments exceed $25,000 annually.

REGIONS POLICY ON POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Philosophy

This Policy on Political Contributions ("Policy") and the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics ("Code of Conduct") have been approved by the Executive Council to govern and promote the highest standards of behavior by our company and our associates with regard to political activities and to ensure compliance with all current applicable federal and state campaign finance laws. Like most public companies however, Regions recognizes that decisions made by governmental agencies and lawmakers can have a significant impact on our company, our operations, our stockholders, customers and associates. Accordingly, we monitor, track and express our views to lawmakers and regulators on a variety of issues that affect our business. The political contributions are made to candidates and organizations that share Regions' business principles and objectives without regard for the private political preferences of executives and not on a partisan basis, and are disclosed according to state and federal laws and regulations.

Corporate Political Contributions

Regions is prohibited by law from making contributions or expenditures in connection with any federal and some state elections. Regions may make corporate contributions in states where permissible under law. These contributions may be directed to state party organizations, and candidates for statewide offices, state legislatures, and, in rare instances, local offices. Also, where legally permitted, Regions may make independent expenditures or corporate contributions in connection with state and local ballot initiatives and referenda on important policy issues that are likely to impact our business and our stakeholders. However, Regions does not make contributions to other political entities organized under Section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code or to special interest lobbying groups organized under Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code to support political activities, even when legally permissible. Regions will disclose semi- annually its independent expenditures and corporate political giving on its website.

The Head of Government affairs may approve contributions up to $5,000 upon recommendation by the Manager of State Government Affairs, and in amounts exceeding $5,000 in consultation with the General Counsel, the Head of Corporate Responsibility and Community Engagement and another member of the Operating Committee.

Policies for Associates

Regions provides an opportunity for its associates to participate in the political process by joining one of Regions' voluntary employee political action committees ("PAC") which allows associates to pool their financial resources to support federal and state candidates who support effective legislation important to Regions and its stockholders. The political contributions made by a PAC are funded entirely by the voluntary contributions of our associates. Any Regions associate who contributes to a PAC may request a PAC contribution for a candidate or a committee. Information about associates' contributions through a PAC to political candidates, political parties or committees and other political organizations is publicly available, with certain information disclosed online with the Federal Election Commission. Regions also is required to comply with federal and state laws regarding the disclosure of certain lobbying activities and such disclosures are available for public review.

Regions Trade Association Memberships

Regions and its subsidiaries belong to several trade associations and coalitions ("Trade Associations") and pays dues where required. Membership in these Trade Associations serves as a resource of industry information for Regions and often serves to promote our public policy goals. While Regions may not agree with every position taken by each Trade Association to which we belong, Regions believes that the majority of the positions taken by the Trade Associations are overwhelmingly consistent with Regions' public policy goals. Each year, Regions will request from the Trade Associations to which it pays more than $25,000 in annual dues and payments a report of the portion of Regions' dues and payments that would not be deductible under the Internal Revenue Code. Regions will list semi- annually on its corporate website those entities and will disclose the amounts of the payments to each of those entities that would not be deductible.

Board Oversight

Management will provide an annual report to the Risk Committee of the Regions Financial Corp. and Regions Bank Boards of Directors regarding corporate contributions and non-deductible portions of the Trade Associations' dues. Any amendments to this Policy must be approved by the Executive Council. The company semi-annually will post a "Government Affairs Annual Report," that shows corporate political activity on regions.com.
