KEY FACTS

Description	The Regions Explore® Credit Card account is a secured revolving line of credit that can be used wherever Visa® credit cards are accepted. If you are a member or dependent of a member of the U.S. Armed Forces, this product may not be available to you. Please see the “Special rules for members of the U.S. Armed Forces and their dependents” section on page 2. Cardholders may be evaluated periodically to determine if they qualify for an unsecured Explore Credit Card account. See “Evaluation for graduation to an unsecured account” section on page 2.
Collateral	As part of the application process for a Regions Explore Credit Card account, you must open a new Regions Explore Card Savings Account® to secure your obligations on the credit card. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If your application is approved, we will place a hold on your savings account to restrict withdrawals. When the credit card account is closed, the funds in the savings account will be used to pay all amounts owed on the credit card account. We may retain any excess funds in the savings account for up to 60 days after the credit card account is closed in order to cover any transactions, fees or charges that may post after closing. • If your credit card application is declined, we will convert the savings account or otherwise return or credit the funds in it to you, as provided in the Explore Card Savings account terms.
Credit limit	This term refers to the maximum amount you can borrow using the credit card account. Credit limits for the Explore Card account range from $250 to $10,000. The credit limit is assigned when an application is approved and will be 100% of the available balance in the savings account at the time of approval.
Purpose	You may use this credit card account for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Purchases • Balance transfers to pay amounts you owe to other creditors • Cash advances • Overdraft protection for your Regions checking account. With overdraft protection, if your checking account becomes overdrawn, a cash advance from your credit card account will be automatically transferred to your checking account and a transfer fee will be charged to your checking account, as provided in the Deposit Agreement. Funds transferred from the credit card account will accrue interest at the cash advance APR provided in the Credit Card Agreement.
Monthly payments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A monthly statement will be sent with balance and payment information. • You must pay at least the minimum payment by the payment due date to avoid late fees and to keep your account in good standing. • If you send a payment to the payment address on the statement and it is received by 5 p.m. local time, it will be credited to the account as of the day it is received, even if it is not posted on that date.
Grace period	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No interest will be charged on purchases made during the statement cycle if you pay your full account balance by the due date each month. • Interest will be charged on balance transfers and cash advances beginning on the transaction date.
Annual Percentage Rate (APR)	This rate expresses an interest rate for an entire year, rather than as a daily or monthly rate.

Pay less interest	You can reduce your interest charges by paying more than the minimum payment. If you pay more than the minimum payment, the extra amount will reduce the balance with the highest APR first. You may pay the full balance at any time without penalty. Different APRs may apply to different balances on your account. For instance, the APR for any cash advance balance you may have will generally be different from the APR on the balance from your purchases.
Variable rates	The interest rates for your account are variable and may increase or decrease with the prime rate. Each variable rate is determined by adding the prime rate to an additional amount referred to as a “margin.” The margins are shown in the Pricing Information on page 4.
Prime rate	This is the prime rate published daily in The Wall Street Journal and is the base rate on corporate loans posted by the largest U.S. banks. This rate is used by many banks to calculate interest on consumer loan products, including credit cards. The “Variable Rates” section on page 4 explains how prime is used to calculate interest on Regions credit card accounts.  TIP: The prime rate can be found at www.wsj.com/market-data/bonds/moneyrates .
Fees	Fees may be charged to your account. These include an annual fee and fees for late payments, balance transfers and cash advances, as shown in the Pricing Information on page 4. A list of all fees that may be charged is included in the Credit Card Agreement, which can be found at regions.com/creditcards .
Creditworthiness	This term refers to your history of paying your debts, and is based primarily on information in your credit report. It may also refer to your ability to repay current and future debts, based on your current income and your financial obligations. Your creditworthiness determines whether you will receive a credit card account.
Evaluation for graduation to an unsecured account	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • From time to time, we may periodically evaluate your Regions Explore Credit Card account to determine whether you qualify for “graduation” to an unsecured Explore Credit Card account. If this occurs, we will convert the savings account or otherwise return or credit the funds in it to you. As part of our evaluation, we will review a variety of factors, including your payment history on the credit card account and your overall credit and payment history with us and other creditors. Unsecured Regions credit cards are only available to non-U.S. citizens if they are documented permanent resident aliens or refugees/asylees, and we will not evaluate other non-U.S. citizens for graduation to an unsecured card. • If we determine that you qualify to graduate to an unsecured Explore Credit Card account, we will send you a notice that we have terminated the Hold Authorization and Security Agreement, and we will convert the savings account or otherwise return or credit the funds in it to you. The termination of the Hold Authorization and Security Agreement and the conversion of the savings account, or the return or other credit of the funds in it to you, will not affect the interest rates, fees or other terms of your Credit Card Agreement, including your obligation to make all required payments when due.
Special rules for members of the U.S. Armed Forces and their dependents	The U.S. Department of Defense regulation implementing the Military Lending Act restricts the ability of creditors to issue credit cards secured by funds in an existing deposit account. Due to this restriction, which is effective October 3, 2017, Regions has determined that it cannot open an Explore Credit Card account for any consumer who is a “covered borrower” under this regulation. If you are a “covered borrower” under this regulation and apply for an Explore Credit Card, your application may be declined and we will convert the savings account or otherwise return or credit the funds in it to you as provided in the “Collateral” section on page 1.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Keeping your account safe	Contact us immediately if your card is lost or stolen, or if you think your account is subject to unauthorized use. ➡ TIP: If you permit another person to use your card or account number to make purchases or advances on your account, you may be responsible for all transactions made by that person, even if you did not intend for those transactions to be made.
Managing your account	Your monthly statement will show your account balance, transaction information, available credit, minimum payment, payment due date and other important account information. ➡ TIPS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your monthly payment is due on the same day each month. • By paying on time, you'll avoid late payment fees and keep your account in good standing. This will help you maintain and build a solid credit history. • If you pay more than the monthly minimum payment, the extra amount is applied to your balance with the highest APR, so you can pay off your balance faster and save on interest. • You may receive your monthly statements electronically (rather than in the mail) by enrolling in Online Statements through Regions Online Banking at regions.com.
How interest is calculated	We use the average daily balance method (including new transactions) to calculate the interest owed on your account. With this method, we separately calculate interest for each type of balance on your account – purchases, cash advances and balance transfers. ➡ TIPS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paying in full will save you money by helping you reduce interest charges. • You will pay interest on cash advances and balance transfers beginning from the transaction date. There is no grace period for cash advances and balance transfers. • If you do not pay your balance in full each month, we will charge interest on each purchase starting on the day you make the purchase, subject to applicable law.

TO APPLY, STOP BY YOUR LOCAL REGIONS BRANCH.

FEES

Annual fee	$29
Transaction fees: Balance transfer Cash advance Foreign transaction	Either $10 or 4% of the amount of each transfer, whichever is greater Either $10 or 4% of the amount of each cash advance, whichever is greater None
Penalty fees: Late payment	Up to $39
How we calculate your balance	We use a method called “average daily balance (including new transactions).” See your Account Agreement for more details.
Variable rates	Variable rates on the account are calculated by adding together an index and a margin. The index is the highest U.S. prime rate as published in the “Money Rates” section of The Wall Street Journal on the last publication day of each month. The margins are shown below. An increase or decrease in the index will cause a corresponding increase or decrease in your variable rates on the first day of your billing cycle that begins in the same month in which the index is published. An increase in the index means that you will pay higher interest charges and have a higher total minimum payment due. If The Wall Street Journal does not publish the U.S. prime rate, or if it changes the definition of the U.S. prime rate, the Bank may, in its sole discretion, substitute another index. ¹ Standard rate for purchases and balance transfers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Wall Street Journal prime + a margin of 19.74% ² Standard rate for cash advances: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Wall Street Journal prime + a margin of 21.74%
